Profile

Edwina Neale is an experienced and successful Executive Coach who has 25+ years business experience, including seven years as International HR Manager for a large global organisation, as well as being an accredited Professional Certified Coach with the International Coach Federation. She therefore brings a wealth of expertise and experience into facilitating personal development and achieving business success. Most of her coaching work has been in Leadership Development within major plc organisations, including the development of high potential individuals for positions at Board level, and working with senior managers transitioning into new roles.

Her success is directly related to the quality of her working relationships and the trust and respect established within those relationships. Her flexible style enables her to work at all levels within organisations, and her authentic and energising approach builds a personal rapport that is sometimes challenging, always encouraging and produces dynamic results.
